Domestic reports restated financials for new segment structure for 2019 and 2020

- As previously announced, Domestic is changing its reporting structure from the Q1 2021 interim report with four segments reported: Americas, APAC, EMEA and Global.
- The segments will replace the previous regional structure in line with the organizational change announced in 2020.
- Domestic today discloses restated financials for 2019 and 2020 full year and by quarter. The Restated Financials are now available at www.dometic.com/en/se/about-us/investors
- Domestic invites to a conference call about the restated financials with CFO Stefan Fristedt for analysts and investors on Tuesday March 16, 2021 at 11.00 CET

To facilitate year-on-year comparisons, Domestic today discloses the restated financials for 2019 and 2020 full year and by quarter. The restated financials include the following changes:

New segment structure

Aligned with the organizational change announced in February 2020 and implemented from 2021, Domestic will start to report financials according to new segments starting from the first quarter of 2021. This structure is replacing the previous region structure. The new segments are Americas, APAC, EMEA and Global. Disclosures per segment include Net sales, EBIT and Items affecting comparability.

From two to three sales channels

Group net sales is divided into three sales channels compared to two channels before. The new channels are OEM, Distribution, and Service and aftermarket.

Changed reporting between lines in Income Statement

Logistic costs is reclassified from Sales expenses to Cost of Goods sold. Product development costs is reclassified from Cost of Goods sold to Research and development expenses. The reclassifications have no impact on Operating profit.
